People are concerned about jobs. I understand that. I have my own business. They are concerned about feeding their children. But what about the world they are leaving their children. This coal shipment business is immoral. We cannot do this to our environment. We must look at the bigger picture. Not act only out of greed or fear. Shipping coal in open train cars will add a lot to the pollution of our air & our water & our earth. I do not want coal trains thru Spokane. I do not want the pollution from China drifting over to Alaska. It is a crazy thing to do.

NO COAL shipment to China,

I acknowledge that my comments may be outside the "scope" of this process. But the problem is not my comment but the narrow scope.

We should not be exploiting coal resources at a time when the clearly disastrous effects of climate change threaten human life as well as whole ecosystems on this planet. We need to stop conducting an uncontrolled chemical experiment with the atmosphere upon which all life on this planet depends.
