To Whom it concerns,

I wish to register my concern over the issue of coal trains coming through Seattle, WA. In fact, I want to register my concern for the environment when removing coal from the earth. Many have sited the reasons for concern and I also support them including the decreased air quality, the long trains keeping people from going about their business and perhaps even becoming life threatening. Also in thinking about it, don't forget America will suffer greatly for the sale of coal to China in another way. Once burned the contaminated air particles will be blown back over here to the United States. Please think with a humane heart and not with your wallet. Money made is short lived, while the detriments will effect your grandchildren and leave a terrible legacy.

Sincerely yours,
